Hydrocarbon Processing is seeking an Intern (unpaid)

Gulf Energy Information is looking to hire a bright, motivated, and enthusiastic candidate for an intern based in Houston, TX. The role would be a 6-15 hours/week unpaid position based out of the Houston office.

This internship position supports the midstream and downstream oil and gas editorial team and publisher in their daily operations.

Workload will include image selections, working with authors, associations, PR agencies and companies to procure editorial, filing of manuscripts, proofreading online posts, press releases and news reports, working with the editors in the production process and assisting the publisher by compiling lists and information for advertising support.

This unpaid position will provide a well-rounded overview of a technical publication in the oil and gas industry. Course credit and Workstudy may be possible. The intern will work under close supervision of the Publisher and the Associate Publisher. (6-15 hours/week)

Please send your resume with a cover letter to resumes@gulfpub.com. No phone calls please.
